

Hackberry, Common

Celtis occidentalis

- Large deciduous tree
- Cylindrical shape when mature
- 40' to 60' tall and has an almost equal spread
- Branches tend to droop
- Prefers rich soil

- Simple leaves, are 3" to 5" long
- Medium green color, pale, yellow-green leaf underside
- Leaves have rough texture
- Yellow fall color

- Blooms late April to early May
- Orangey-red fleshy fruit

- Ripen in September - October

- Bark is grayish color, corky and unattractive

